UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

BOOK AWARD

NATIONAL SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM

deadline: october 21 2021

The University of Toronto National Book Award Program recognizes and rewards the very best Canadian secondary school students, regardless of which university those students choose to attend. These are students who demonstrate superior academic performance, original and creative thought, and exceptional achievement in a broad context. They excel in academic pursuits, demonstrate enthusiasm for intellectual exploration and have a strong involvement in the lives of their schools and communities. It is not necessary that the student intend to apply for admission to the University of Toronto. Award recipients receive a National Book Award recognizing their achievements, and as a symbol of their academic potential. It is a non-monetary award. The book will be presented to the student at their secondary school graduation ceremony at the end of the school year. Students nominated for this award are invited to submit an application to the National Scholarship Program.

If you are interested in applying for the U of T National Book Award, submit a one-page self-written reference letter explaining how you meet the above listed criteria to Mr. Low by Friday, October 8 at noon (12:00) through email (Darren.low@tdsb.on.ca). For more information, go to <https://future.utoronto.ca/national-scholarship/about/>

Students who have been nominated by their schools as National Book Award recipients may submit applications to the National Scholarship Program. In addition, students who identify themselves as meeting the scholarship criteria are invited to apply directly for the National Scholarship, without having been nominated for the Book Award. The National Scholarship rewards original, creative and committed Canadian secondary school students.

Consuming Digital Media Critically

A Workshop for High School Students

Explore what digital media is, how it is created, and how to consume it critically and responsibly. In this workshop, we will explore memes, social media trends, and the blending of traditional media (newspapers, other print media) and digital media.

By the end, participants will have a clearer understanding of the role of power dynamics in digital media and how we can all do our part to not perpetuate harmful content and ideas.
